SCOUT ANTIQUES, BRIC-A-BRAC, DESIGN AND VINTAGE GOODS ON SUNDAYS

Lazing around on Sunday?
Wonderful. But everyone needs adventure from time to time.
How about a day of time travel in the oldest and cosiest city in Belgium?

Want to strolling along medieval walls and age-old squares?
Want to inhale the lively atmosphere between unique antiques and retro items?
Do you need some ideas and inspiration for your interior?

Welcome to the Antiques Market in Tongeren!

RUMMAGING THROUGH ITEMS WITH A STORY

All roads lead to Tongeren on Sunday.

Sleep late on Sunday? Forget it.
The oldest city in Belgium is up bright and early.

The city centre transforms into one big – almost medieval – marketplace. You are welcomed by sounds of convivial activity and inviting aromas of fresh coffee and sandwiches.

All roads lead to Tongeren on Sunday. Dutchmen, Germans, French, British, Americans, Russians, Chinese and Japanese tourists effortlessly find their way to the pre-eminent, international antiques hotspot.

No less than 40 renowned antique shops and about 350 exhibitors unveil extremely original items.

Antiques, bric-a-brac, design or retro: at the Antiques Market you enter a world of unique items and each of them has a story.
Rummage through old postcards, vinyl records, mannequins, unique crystal glasses, silver and pottery, handmade furniture, vintage toys and rare collector's items. They will give you flashbacks to your childhood and long before that.

Strolling past authentic stories: visiting Tongeren's Antique Market is an unforgettable experience!

HOW IT ALL STARTED

August 1976. Seven residents of Tongeren organised a flea market. It turned out to be a great idea because that first, modest edition grew into the largest antiques and bric-a-brac market in the Benelux.

Collector's tip

Are you diligently looking for that one collector's item? The Antiques Market buzzes with activity as of daybreak. Early birds spot the most interesting treasures!

SOLD!

Is the asking price of your favourite item a bit too high? Make an offer but be respectful. Negotiations are part of the antiques market experience!

Whatever the weather

The Antiques Market is open every Sunday all year round. Even during the winter and during typical Belgian weather. A large portion of our Antiques Market is covered; we are comfortable installed in the Eburonenhal or the Julianus car park at level -1.

TONGEREN'S ANTIQUE SHOPS

A real antiques lover? You can get expert advice about valuable antiquities in the antiques shops along the route.

Tongeren is lively on Sundays from 7 am to 1 pm. All year long!

You feel it the moment you enter Tongeren. This is a special city.

You'll follow in the footsteps of the Romans and walk through age-old history in the city centre. Magnificent (religious) buildings remind one of flourishing medieval trade activities.

Pedestrians automatically slacken their pace. Heads swing from left to right. The historic sites are very impressive.

But more going on in this city, much more. The latest trends combine harmoniously with age-old traditions in very modern settings. The city is suffused with a cosy ambiance.

There is no doubt that the oldest city in Belgium brims over with energy!

1 PM. THE END OF THE ANTIQUES MARKET. BUT THE DAY IS STILL YOUNG!

A bit of the world comes to Tongeren on Sunday mornings.
